PREFACE.

The issue of the ninth volume of the Cornwall Parish Registers calls for little remark. Those who are interested in genealogical enquiries know that the value of the book will not be enhanced by any comments upon its contents, and those who are not interested in such enquiries are hardly likely to read what we might have to say.

At the same time as supplying genealogists with a ready answer to the cui bono enquiry, the following well authenticated illustration of the danger to which parochial records are exposed, may be adduced. A single concrete example of fraud often produces a deeper impression than the most powerful arguments. An American gentleman wishing to trace his pedigree advertised in an English newspaper for the record of the marriage of one of his ancestors. The marriage was supposed to have taken place at a church within sound of Bow bells on the 5th of June, in the year 1730. A reward of £20 was offered for a duly certified copy of the marriage entry. In the course of a few weeks the gentleman was gratified to receive, from the Parish Clerk of a church in the neighbourhood referred to, the required certificate. Some time afterwards he came over to this country and determined to see with his own eyes the Register which had supplied the coveted information. The Register was shown to him and he went away satisfied with what he had seen. In due course he determined to enter his pedigree in the College of Arms. The officer to whom application was made, while engaged upon a cursory examination of the evidence, suddenly recollected that the College possessed a copy of the very Register which had yielded such gratifying results. It was suggested that they should refer to it for confirmation of the marriage. To the dismay of both the entry could not be found. It appeared that a marriage had taken place on the very day in the year 1730 at that church, but it was not the marriage of which a certificate had been supplied. Thereupon a second visit was paid to the church and it required but a minute's investigation to see that a fraud had been perpetrated. The original entry had been erased and the names of the persons given in the advertisement inserted. Had there been no copy of that Register the forgery would never have been discovered. Many similar instances could be given. The above was only discovered a few months ago.

Indirectly there are other beneficial results which come of the present enterprise. The extraction of the earlier entries is often attended with difficulty owing to the dilapidated condition of the register.

In the Zennor prefatory note attention is called to the fragmentary state of that register. Since it was written it is most gratifying to know that arrangements have been made by the Vicar with the officials of the Public Record Office for the repair and rebinding of the volume. The cost of this work (£4 10*s.*) is a considerable drain upon the revenue of a poor parish, and the Vicar deserves the warmest thanks of all who are interested in the preservation of our ancient muniments.

In conclusion, we may state that for the delay in issuing the present volume the General Election is chiefly to blame. The demand for electioneering literature was such as to give a temporary check to the ordinary business.

Marriages at St. Uny-Lelant,

1679 to 1812.

NOTE.—With the exception of a few loose parchment sheets containing Baptisms, there are no Lelant registers extant prior to 1700. The entries hereunder given are taken from the Bodmin Transcripts, and from three volumes; the first of these has parchment leaves and a paper binding considerably the worse for wear, and gives the Marriage record from 1716 to 1754. Of the two remaining volumes, which consist of Hardwicke's forms, the first (1754-1782) is in a very dilapidated condition, and both require rebinding. In the present Vicar's hands there is good reason to believe that the Registers will receive the attention they urgently deserve. The following entries have been extracted by the Rev. T. Taylor, and are printed by leave of the Rev. W. R. Erskine, M.A., Vicar of Lelant.

Marriages at Paul,

1595 to 1812.

NOTE.—The Registers from which the following entries have been extracted are four in number, all in an excellent state of preservation, though here and there slightly disfigured by pencil notes in the margin. The writing is unusually good. Volume I., measuring 9½ inches by 14 inches, bound in morocco, gives the entries from 1595 to 1694. Volume II., 10½ inches by 13½ inches, calf bound, continues the record as far as 1753. Two Volumes of Hardwicke's Register supply the rest. The Rev. E. R. Nevill is responsible for the following list which is printed by permission of the Rev. R. W. Aitken, Vicar of Paul.

Marriages at Zennor,

1617 to 1812.

NOTE.—The earliest Zennor Register, which dates from the year 1599, is in a sad state of decay. Damp has destroyed many pages, and those which remain are in tatters and in many places illegible. The present Vicar is about to submit the book to an expert in the hope that it may be saved, for a time at least, from utter destruction. The entries hereunder given have been carefully extracted, but it is too much to hope that in every case an absolutely accurate reading has been obtained. It will be noticed there are several gaps. The page of Marriages which precedes the year 1617 is quite illegible with the exception of a word here and there. This earliest volume gives the Marriages up to the year 1754. The remainder have been entered in a volume of Hardwicke's forms. The Rev. T. Taylor has extracted the entries which are now printed by leave of the Rev. D. R. Vaughan Vicar of Zennor.

Marriages at St. Hilary,

1692 to 1812.

NOTE.—All the Registers of St. Hilary Church are in good preservation and are legible throughout.

Volume I has been recently bound in stout leather. It consists of parchment leaves and gives the Baptisms, Marriages and Burials from 1692 to 1745 inclusive.

Volume II. also leather bound with parchment leaves, supplies the Marriages from 1746 to 1761, and Baptisms and Burials from 1746 to 1777.

Volume III. is the Register prescribed by Hardwicke's Act and records the Marriages from 24 August 1754, to 1812. From 24 August, 1754, to 1761 there is therefore a duplicate record of the Marriages.

The entries have been extracted by the Rev. T. Taylor and are printed by permission of the Rev. J. F. Lemon, M.A,. Vicar of St. Hilary.
